This goal will be accomplished by maintaining a financially sound ACA, a quality subsidiary, and strong generational relationships with borrowers and prospects.
- B. The Board of Directors (Board) adopts this Charter to support the Board's leadership and oversight role in the execution and accomplishment of the Association's mission. The Board has the authority and responsibility to guide and direct the operations of the Association.

II. DEFINITIONS

- A. Outside Director: A director appointed by the Association Board of Directors as outlined in section 400.1 and 400.6 of the Association Bylaws. Each outside director shall be a person who, at the time of appointment to the Board is not a director, officer, agent, employee or stockholder of any System institution.
- B. Stockholder-Elected Director – A director elected by the Voting Stockholders pursuant to Section 400.1 of the Association Bylaws.
- C. Advisor to the Board – An Advisor to the Board is an individual designated by the board of directors to provide expertise, counsel, or mentoring support to the board or its committees. An advisor is not a director of the Association. An advisor does not hold voting rights, does not bear fiduciary duties, and is not subject to the director qualification, training, conflict-of-interest, or disclosure requirements applicable to directors under the Farm Credit Act or FCA regulations. An advisor is not counted in the calculation of board composition ratios under 12 CFR § 611.220(a)(2). The advisor role is established consistent with FCA Bookletter BL-009 (Revised October 28, 2024), which provides that positions that are not full directorships should use an alternate title such as “advisor to the board.”

III. MEMBERSHIP, TERMS OF OFFICE, AND QUALIFICATIONS

A. Membership

1. The Board shall be composed of up to twelve (12) directors total, comprised of eight (8) Stockholder-Elected Directors elected by the Voting Stockholders as outlined in the Association Bylaws, and up to four (4) Outside Directors appointed by the Board to fulfill FCA requirements and meet the needs of the Board. The Stockholder-Elected Directors must always constitute more than 60% of the total Board composition as required by FCA regulations.
 - a) Association Bylaws state that the Board is responsible for appointment or dismissal of the Outside Directors. Further details are covered in the Bylaws and the Association's Policy on Selection of Appointed Director.
 - b) Additionally, the Bylaws cover conditions whereby Stockholder-Elected Directors may be removed or dismissed and the Board is responsible for addressing midterm vacancies as provided for within the Association Bylaws.
2. Director Independence Criteria
 - a) All of the following objective criteria must be met to be considered an independent director under this policy. The criteria for loan volume is based on Stockholder-Elected Director and spouse attributed obligations, including ownership share of corporate assets and liabilities, but excluding contingent liabilities:
 - (1) The director's gross loan exposure from the Association does not exceed 25% of the Association's total capital.
 - (2) The director's total attributed System loan volume is less than the net worth of the director based on his/her most recently submitted balance sheet.
 - (3) The director's loan is not adversely classified.
 - (4) The director or the spouse of the director is not an employee, director or more than a 10 percent owner of a non-System financial institution that has more than 5% of its loans in agricultural loans.

- (6) The director has no outside business relationship or family relationship with any senior management staff member of the Association.
 - (7) The director has no family relationship with any other member of the Board and no significant outside business relationship with any other member of the Board where the business relationship comprises a material part of either the director's farm or ranch.
 - b) Annually, an analysis of the above objective criteria will be performed by Association staff to assist the Board in determining the independence of each director. In connection with receiving the objective criteria analysis, the Board will also consider any other known information that could impact the independence of any director. Following consideration of this information, the Board will act to record its determination of the independence of each director. Board members must be determined to be independent to serve on the Association's Audit Committee, Governance Committee, and Human Capital Committee.
 - c) The Association will notify the director, and the director will notify the Association, as soon as reasonably possible, of any information that arises that would cause the director to fail to meet any test for director independence at any time during the year. When the director cures any criteria test which was not met, the director may be considered by the Board for re-designation as an independent director.
 - d) If the percent of independent directors falls below 60%, the Board will notify the Association nominating committee of the need and desire for independent directors to be elected by the stockholders.
 - e) The Board's determination of a director's independence will be considered when Board Committee assignments are made and, in particular, assignments to the Association's Audit Committee, Governance Committee, and Human Capital Committee.
3. Members should have the time to commit as well as the experience and expertise to serve on the Board of Directors.
4. All directors are expected to attend not less than seventy-five percent of all Board meetings and any meetings of board committees on which the director served each fiscal year. Committee meeting attendance is evaluated separately from board meeting attendance when determining the need for disclosure.

There is no limit on the number of successive terms that may be served.

C. Officers

- 1. The Board's role can be best accomplished through an interactive Board that has sound and constructive leadership. It is the Board's desire to elect officers that are both willing and capable of providing appropriate leadership. Open and candid discussion to avoid politicizing the process is encouraged. Generally, the Board believes that no director should be precluded from the opportunity to serve as Chairperson. Furthermore, the terms of the Chairperson position shall not be limited.

1. Purpose. The board may designate one or more individuals as Advisors to the Board to support board succession planning, director onboarding, knowledge transfer, or specialized expertise needs. The advisor role may be used in connection with director transitions, including but not limited to:
 - a) Pre-appointment onboarding – enabling a prospective director to observe board and committee proceedings, build institutional knowledge, and demonstrate suitability prior to formal appointment to a full term;
 - b) Post-service mentoring – enabling a departing director to provide continuity, mentor a successor, and support committee handoffs following the conclusion of their term of office; and
 - c) Specialized advisory support – enabling an individual with subject-matter expertise to counsel the board or a committee on specific matters for a defined period.

5. Participation. An advisor may attend regular and special meetings of the board and, at the board's discretion, meetings of committees to which the advisor has been assigned. The board shall hold executive sessions without advisors present, consistent with FCA guidance (BL-009; FCA FAQ #1). An advisor may receive board and committee materials as determined appropriate by the board chair.
6. Confidentiality. Prior to commencing service, each advisor shall execute a confidentiality agreement in a form approved by the board or its designee. The agreement shall address the advisor's obligations with respect to proprietary, supervisory, and borrower information to which the advisor may have access through board or committee participation. BL-009 identifies confidentiality as a key risk area when non-directors attend board meetings.
7. Compensation and Expenses. The board may, at its discretion, provide compensation and expense reimbursement to an advisor. Any compensation arrangement shall be documented and disclosed consistent with FCA regulations and Association policy.
8. Disclosure and Communication. VI. RESPONSIBILITIES AND AUTHORITIES

- A. The Board is the elected representatives of the membership of the Association and has a fiduciary duty to oversee the operation of the organization to ensure compliance with the intent of the Farm Credit Act, the regulations of the Farm Credit Administration [FCA] and the requirements of the Farm Credit System [FCS]; and to ensure that the organization operates in a safe, sound and constructive manner as outlined in "The Directors Role" published by FCA.
- B. The ultimate responsibility for the conduct of the Association's affairs lies with the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors (along with board committees) performs governance and oversight functions for the Association's business planning & strategic direction, mission achievement, policies, performance against the corporate plan and established risk limits, internal controls, information technology activities, compensation programs, financial reporting, legal and regulatory compliance, and the Association's welfare. Directors are placed in positions of trust by the Association's stockholders.
- C. Each director must:
 - 1. have a basic understanding of Association's primary and other lines of business including the key business opportunities and the strategies that are in place;
 - 2. understand the cooperative principles and philosophies the Association holds and be aware of their implication for member benefit, member ownership, and member control;
 - 3. understand the significant risk areas in Association operations and ensure that the processes and tools utilized to monitor and control risk are effective.
- D. Hiring and effectively supervising the CEO.
 - 1. When appropriate, the Board must redirect or replace the CEO.
 - 2. An outstanding relationship between the Board and the CEO ensues when there is no question of the Board's authority relative to developing and maintaining the corporate policies, strategic planning, corporate planning, annual budget and their duty to hire, supervise, evaluate and, if necessary, terminate the CEO. Conversely, there must be no question that the CEO's role is distinct and separate from the Board's role. It must be understood that there is a clear delineation between the roles; the fact that there are two different roles must be respected. The result is a healthy, collegial, but arms-length, relationship between the Board and the CEO that is based on mutual trust and respect. A relationship of this nature allows the CEO to lead and manage with confidence.
 - 3. Board communication on an ongoing basis is critical to develop a sound relationship between the Board and the CEO.

FRESNO MADERA FARM CREDIT, ACA
BOARD OF DIRECTORS' CHARTER

4. Must strive to demonstrate continued trust and confidence in management personally and professionally when questioning, probing, or opposing management's position or recommendations on an issue before the Board; however, this does not mean that the Board should not be candid with the CEO as his/her understanding of the basis for the Board's position or concern so that he/she can modify behavior or make managerial or procedural changes as required.
5. Must respect their delegation of authority to the CEO to manage the day to day operation of the Association and not interfere with the managerial chain of command that runs from the CEO, to his/her management team and then down to their subordinates. It is critically important that every member of staff understands unequivocally to whom they report.
6. Review and approve the annual CEO evaluation (as submitted by the Human Capital Committee):
 - a) Ensure that the performance ratings, recommended salary, merit, incentive and retention support the achievement of the established performance objectives for the year.
 - b) Ensure the next year's performance objectives based on qualitative and quantitative measures are clearly outlined and align with the annual business plan and organizational strategy.
- E. Clarify and maintain a separation of the Board, Audit Committee and Human Capital Committee's role from that of the CEO.
- F. Provide direction to the long and short term strategic plan that clarifies the Association's vision, establishes priorities, and provides direction to the CEO.
 1. It is expected that the diverse backgrounds of the Board and each director's individual business expertise, experience and perspective are integrated into this strategic planning process and are availed to the Board in the best interest of the member/borrowers and potential customers in our market area.
- G. Approve the Budget, the three year Corporate Plan and Human Capital Plan in accordance with the Association's Planning Policy.
- H. Monitor company performance in accordance with the Corporate Plan and Budget goals.
- I. Monitor profitability while considering capitalization, risk funds, growth opportunities and patronage.
- J. Approve policies to guide, determine, and implement decisions pertaining to the management and operations of the Association.

FRESNO MADERA FARM CREDIT, ACA
BOARD OF DIRECTORS' CHARTER

1. While implementation of a policy may require judgment and discretion, it avoids the need to reconsider all factors each time a decision is considered and made. In general, policies are:
 - a) Established and directed to significant Association goals and responsibilities;
 - b) Supportive of the strategic objectives of the Association; and
 - c) Consistent with Association business philosophies.
 2. Policies are intended to provide guidance and direction to management. They are not, however, intended to restrict appropriate business decisions based on sound judgment. The Board recognizes that actions or inactions constituting exceptions to policies may be appropriate from time to time under certain facts and circumstances. Unless otherwise restricted by a policy, management may make such exceptions that are:
 - a) material in nature provided that they are consistent with and promote the policy's purpose and objective and comply with all legal and policy requirements (including exception reporting to the Board); or
 - b) technical or nonmaterial in nature, e.g., to correct grammar or spelling errors, and/or formatting issues, or to update legal citations.
 3. Unless otherwise legally mandated, all policies will be routinely reviewed by the Board at least every three years, and more frequently on a one-, two- or three-year cycle as designated within each policy. This will insure continued legal/regulatory compliance, relevancy to the Association's strategic objectives, business practices or environment, or other appropriate factors.
- K. Review and approve changes made to the Association's bylaws for compliance with FCA regulations and determine the impact, if any, on the Association.
- L. Review and approve resolutions when a formal, written expression of a decision/opinion of the Board is needed. Resolutions usually include a statement of recitals that explain the reasons behind the Board's action and must comply with applicable law and regulations. In general, resolutions (rather than policies) are required or appropriate under the following circumstances:
1. If an applicable statute, regulation, charter, bylaw or contract requires resolutions;
 2. If a certificate showing the authority granted by stockholders or directors to perform a certain act is required (or likely to be required) to be filed at some future time;
 3. If the issue is System-wide and intended to be uniform to demonstrate support of System positions;

FRESNO MADERA FARM CREDIT, ACA
BOARD OF DIRECTORS' CHARTER

4. If the issue directs or authorizes management and does not readily lend itself to policy format; or
 5. If the issue is of short duration (usually less than one year) but is more formal in nature than an action on a motion.
- M. Provide oversight to ensure that there are effective internal controls and that there has been adequate financial reporting, disclosure and compliance with financial and ethical standards, laws and regulations.
- N. Oversee third-party relationship programs, ensure effective third-party risk management practices, and approve third-party service providers involving critical activities, as defined in the FMFC Third Party Risk Management Policy.
- O. Provide governance over maintaining an effective and secure information technology (IT) enterprise framework for the Association.
- P. Annually, the Board shall review and approve the overall compensation program and philosophy for all employees. The Board shall approve base salary, incentive, and retention plans for all Association employees in concurrence with the annual budget review and approval process.
- Q. Review and approve recommendations by the Human Capital Committee surrounding the management succession plan.
- R. Constantly strive to maintain a positive public image of the Association and should establish the tone for communications with stockholders and other external parties.
- S. Maintain high standards of excellence in conducting Board business by
1. Adopting “Best Practices” in governance;
 2. Taking adequate time to prepare for and deliberate on matters coming before the Board;
 3. Asking questions, considering options as well as the advantages and disadvantages of issues presented to the Board;
 4. Exercising objectivity and autonomy to make independent, informed decisions; and
 5. Demonstrating leadership and taking action, when appropriate.
- T. Be unified relative to any communication to the CEO.
- U. Be conclusive after any debate.
- V. Be proactive relative to establishing external political and business relationships with affiliates and target customers.

FRESNO MADERA FARM CREDIT, ACA

 2. Affiliate associations, especially those that share FMFC's credit and customer service culture and that offer participation exchanges, are vitally important to FMFC's future.
 3. Board representation of the Association in the field and at business and social venues will generate referrals which is the best source of new business.
 4. The Board's engagement in the political process is necessary to protect the Association's interests.
- W. The Board should use Executive Sessions as a tool to encourage open, candid, and productive discussions among Board members on problems, strategic opportunities, or on matters such as compensation or performance. The Board should inform the CEO in a timely manner after each Executive Session relative to matters discussed that concern him directly from a management or personal point of view.

 - b) The goal of the Board self-evaluation is to assess the Board's performance and enhance the Board's overall effectiveness. To add value to the strategic planning process and to achieve effectiveness, the self-evaluation should include and identify the following components:
 - (1) Board Strengths
 - (2) Board Weaknesses
 - (3) Plan to Address Identified Weaknesses
 - c) The evaluation is a useful planning tool for training, and identifying desirable director qualifications. The results of the evaluation will be utilized for developing the annual Board of Directors Training Program in accordance with the Board of Directors Training Policy.

- d) It will be at the Board's discretion and authority to determine the manner in which the Board self-evaluation will be conducted. Association resources will be provided as needed to facilitate this process in the manner directed by the Board.

- A. Committees are created to fulfill specific Board functions effectively. By utilizing committees, the Board can facilitate greater breadth, depth, and resources to a specific item delegated by the Board. When establishing a standing committee, the Board will follow these guidelines:
 - 1. The full Board will approve a charter of authorities, composition, and roles and responsibilities for all Board Committees.
 - 2. Committee members' independence, personal characteristics, qualifications, expertise, and number will be considered.
 - 3. Training and evaluation programs for Committee members and its Chairperson will be considered.
 - 4. Any director may sit in on any Committee meeting.

The Board will require reports, advice, and other information to monitor performance, make decisions, and keep informed on important issues and events relating to the Association, peer associations, CoBank, and the System. Information will be from such sources, at such frequency, and in such form as may be satisfactory to the Board.
- B. Ordinarily, Management (assisted by staff), will serve as a primary source of the Board's informational needs. Depending on the circumstances, the Board also shall have the authority to hire independent accounting experts, lawyers, and other consultants to assist and advise the Board in connection with its responsibilities.
